ZION GUARDS SAVED DOWIE FROM RIOTERS

Meeting of First Apostle Broken
Up by Voliva Faction.

CROWD CALLED DOWIE ROBBER

Disturbance Became So Violent that a Riot Call Was Sent In—A Negro
Giant and Zion Guards Protected
the First Apostle.

Chicago, May 15.—A meeting over which John Alexander Dowie presided at Zion City Sunday afternoon was broken up by a number of followers of the opposing faction, assisted by several outsiders, and before the multitude dispersed, a free fight occurred. Dowie was addressing the audience and made the statement that the overseers of the Voliva faction were robbers and thieves. At once a number of those in the audience were on their feet shouting, "No, no; you are the robber! Why don't you pay your debts!"

The disturbance became so violent that a Zion guard was sent to restore order. The guard took hold of an old gray-headed man, who was loud in his demands for Dowie to pay his obligations, and this was a signal for a free fight.

A dozen men seized the guard, and were about to drag him down the aisle when Gladstone Dowie and Deacon Ardington mounted the platform and called upon the audience not to create a disturbance and to take their seats.

After quiet had been restored, Dowie again attempted to proceed with the meeting, but he was jerked and called traitor and robber until he finally decided to dismiss the audience.

A riot call was sent to the police station and Captain of Police Walker, with four men, hurried to the tabernacle in a wagon. By the time the police arrived, most of the audience had left the building.

Negro Giant Aids Dowie.
In the midst of the trouble, Burleigh, the negro attendant of Dowie, rushed upon the platform and placed himself at the "First Apostle's" side while those of the uniformed Zion Guards who have taken sides with Dowie, formed a line of defense in front of the platform. No attempt at violence was made against Dowie, however.

Dowie was so weak that he had to be carried from his carriage into the tabernacle by two attendants. It was announced at Shiloh house, however, Sunday night that he had eaten a very hearty dinner and that he felt no ill effects from the excitement of the afternoon.

At an after-meeting, called for Dowie adherents only, but which was invaded by a large number of those who were riotous at the former meeting, Dowie precipitated a second general disturbance.

Why Woman Died.
He caused to be read a letter from one of his supporters stating that the writer's wife had passed safely through the crisis of a serious illness while Dowie prayed for her. This fact Dowie compared with the case of Mrs. H. E. Cantrell, wife of an overseer, who died last Friday without medical attention, while Voliva and his supporters were offering prayers for her recovery. Dowie declared that he feared the woman died because she had associated herself with the rebels. Immediately there was a storm of hisses and shouts, "Shame, shame!"

"There is death in store for more of you if this rebellion keeps up," continued Dowie. Again the people sprang from their chairs, shouting and gesticulating until the tumult became so general that Dowie was obliged to bring this meeting to a close.

Yarn Mill for Dalton, Ga.
Dalton, Ga., May 14.—Dalton is to have another big mill, employing 300 hands. M. C. Foster has raised $125,000 of local money with which to build a cotton yarn mill. The officers of the company will be elected at an early date.

FATHER GAPON'S BODY FOUND.

Mystery of the Fate of the Russian Priest Cleared at Last.

St. Petersburg, May 15.—The mystery of the fate of Father Gapon apparently was cleared up Sunday by the discovery of a corpse which was almost positively identified as that of the former priest, hanging in an upper chamber of a lonely villa in the suburb of Oerki, Finland.

The villa was rented April 8 for the summer and a deposit paid by an unknown man from St. Petersburg, who, after visiting the house several times in company with a young workman, disappeared April 11, taking the key with him. The proprietor of the villa alarmed at the non-appearance of the tenant, notified the police, who entered the house, breaking down a door they were confronted by a body in a long coat hanging from a nail, the feet touching the floor.

Decomposition of the face made positive identification difficult, but the features resembled those of Gapon, and the clothing corresponded with that worn by the missing labor leader. As the usual symptoms of strangulation were absent, it is conjectured that the man was killed elsewhere, and his body brought to the villa on the night of April 10th. This would tally with the date of the execution of his body brought to the villa on the secret police and with the death sentence of the former priest as announced in recent dispatches from Berlin.

Mexico Hires No Desperadoes.

Mexico City, May 15.—The stories being printed in journals in the United States to the effect that the Mexican government has entered into arrangements with certain Americans of desperate character to hunt down the Yaqui Indians in Sonora, and has given American adventurers all sorts of franchises and facilities so that they may operate on Mexican soil, are pronounced absolutely false. The United States government has now decided to prevent the Yaquis from entering on American territory ostensibly as immigrants, but in reality to purchase arms and ammunition as well as to make plans for further raids and depredations.

Congress Enacts Many Laws.

Washington, May 15.—The files of the index clerks at the state department, show that the first session of the fifty-ninth congress has broken all records in the matter of completed legislation up to this moment. Already more than 3,000 laws have been enacted which is between seven hundred and eight hundred more than in any preceding session up to the beginning of the month of May. The greater part of this mass of law was made upon bills of a private nature and only about 250 of the total enactments were general laws.

200 Funerals Are Held.

New York, May 15.—More than 200 funerals were held in Greater New York Sunday, the 1,500 union funeral drivers who struck last week, having returned to work. An amicable adjustment of the differences between the drivers and the Funeral Coach Owners' association was arrived at after what was practically an all-night conference between representatives of the two organizations. The drivers won their fight, securing shorter hours, a $2 increase in weekly wages, and recognition of their union.

Editor Jailed for Criticism.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—Fred L. Purdy, editor and publisher of The Indianapolis Sun, has been sentenced to thirty days in jail and a fine of $250 by Judge Fremont Alford, of the Marion county criminal court, for an editorial criticism in the paper of Judge Alford's course in connection with the recent indictment of Robert Metzger, chief of police, for assault and battery on prisoners. Mr. Purdy was taken from the court room to the jail and locked up.

Steamer Brings $6,000,000 in Gold.

New York, May 15.—The steamer LaTouraine, which arrived Sunday from Havre, brought $6,000,000 in gold. The Umbria, from Liverpool, brought $2,000,000.

THOUGHT EXPLOSIONS WERE EARTH SHOCKS

People at Bridgeport Alarmed at Powder Explosion.

SHOCK FELT ALL OVER STATE

Four Magazines of Powder Exploded.

Causing Great Alarm Among the People, Who Believed There Had Been an Earthquake.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 15.—Four magazines in the testing grounds of the Union Metallic Cartridge company on the East Side, exploded early Monday morning, the concussion shaking the whole city, and causing great alarm among many persons, who believed that there had been an earthquake.

Windows were shattered and in many houses crockery fell from the shelves, but no serious damage was reported.

There were two explosions with but a second's interval between, and a large amount of powder was destroyed.

None of the company's buildings was damaged. So far as known, no one was harmed.

Following the explosion many persons clad only in their night garments, ran into the streets, believing that the earthquake recently predicted had really taken place. Many women became hysterical, and it was some time before they were reassured. The four magazines, contained 25,000 pounds of powder each. None of the other buildings of the cartridge company was damaged, and the four adjacent magazines were unharmed.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Most of the plate glass windows in the city were shattered, and the isolation hospital, a small structure half a mile away, was wrecked. A panic occurred among the inmates of the town farm, but no one was hurt. The magazines were located on Success Hill, in the northern part of the city.

The full force of the explosion was felt in the city proper, and apparently there is not a single large pane of plate glass left in the business buildings. As for private residences, few escaped without broken windows.

The damage seems to be confined entirely to broken glass, and already the Union Metallic Cartridge company has given notice that property owners will be compensated for damage of this nature.

Immediately after the explosion the people of Bridgeport seemed certain that an earthquake had visited them, and the scenes on the streets were quite exciting. These people, however, continued in a nervous state for several hours, being in fear of further explosions.

The city was early flooded with inquiries from other places for particulars of the disturbance, which even had more resemblance to an earthquake in other towns than locally.

The shocks were felt with force enough to awaken people from sound slumber in several parts of the state.

Shock Felt at New Haven.

New Haven, May 15.—Two shocks from the Bridgeport powder explosion were felt in this city. Windows were rattled and in some houses dishes were broken. It was first thought here that the shocks were caused by an earthquake.

Eastport, L. I., Felt Shocks.

Eastport, L. I., May 15.—Two distinct shocks, coinciding in time with the Bridgeport explosion, were felt at this place Monday morning, and brought nearly the entire population of this village into the streets in their night clothing.

Controls Alcohol Output.

Chicago, May 15.—The Standard Oil company, it is reported, has bought up all the alcohol distilleries in the country, and will use their product to fight the independent oil men. The oil is said to amount for Senator Allen's withdrawal of opposition to free alcohol.

CARMACK TALKS OF HIS DEFEAT

He Accepts Without Bitterness Verdict of Democracy.

Nashville, Tenn., May 15.—Practically complete returns from Saturday's Democratic senatorial primary in this state show that former Governor Robert L. Taylor, is nominated over Senator E. W. Carmack by a majority approximating 9,000 votes. Taylor carried 75 counties of the 96 counties in the state, but in many of them the votes were very close, while Carmack's majority in Shelby, his home county, was heavy.

Senator Carmack left for Washington Sunday night. Senator Carmack is a member of the committee on inter-oceanic canals, and his presence at its meeting on Wednesday next will break the deadlock on the question of type of the Panama canal. Mr. Carmack is known to favor a sea-level waterway across the isthmus.

Before leaving Senator Carmack gave out a statement regarding the result of the senatorial primary. He said:

"I accept without bitterness or complaint the verdict of the Democratic party. I should, of course, have been pleased if my course in the senate could have won its approval instead of its disapproval, but I am sustained by the consciousness that to the best of my ability I have faithfully served the people of Tennessee. I shall go back into private life with no revenges to gratify, no enemies to punish, but with a heart full of gratitude to as faithful a band of my friends as any man ever had. I owe to them a debt I can never repay, but they can command from me any effort or any sacrifice for the rest of my life.

"I shall not cease to take an interest in public affairs, or in questions that concern the public welfare and the cause of clean and honest government, and while I shall be only a Democratic voter, I shall still be a Democrat."

Girl Arrested for Pension Fraud.

Marion, Ga., May 15.—T. C. Howell, a negro preacher, was arrested Sunday and carried to Savannah, to answer to the charge of advising a negro girl in his congregation to perpetrate a fraud against the government pension laws. The girl is also under arrest. Her father had been drawing a pension and when he died she swore that her child was her father's child and in this way had the payments continued. When it was discovered that she had misrepresented the facts, she said her pastor advised her and she followed his advice.

Discuss Foreign Missions.

Chattanooga, May 15.—The morning session of the Southern Baptists was devoted to the subject of foreign missions, under the leadership of Rev. R. J. Willingham, of Richmond, Va., the secretary of the board. The speakers were Rev. W. L. Pickard, of Lynchburg, Va.; Rev. J. T. M. Johnson, of St. Louis, and Rev. Len G. Broughton, of Atlanta, Ga. The Woman's Missionary Union had a special session discussing the work abroad.

Aged Man Is Hurt By Belt.

Athens, Ga., May 15.—J. W. Eberheart, Sr., is at his home suffering from painful and serious injuries sustained while at work at Athens Foundry and Machine shop. A belt from an overhead pulley flew loose, striking his head, cutting severe gashes and also broke his left arm, a finger on the left hand and dislocated his thumb. He is 65 years old, and has been at work with the concern for more than 25 years.

Will Not Accept Secretaryship.

Nashville, May 15.—Mrs. John O. Hunt, of this city, widow of the late Rev. John O. Hunt, one of the most eminent Baptist divines in the Southern Baptist church, who was last week elected corresponding secretary of the Woman's Mission board of the Southern Baptist church, has decided not to accept.

Supreme Court Denies Rehearing.

Washington, May 15.—The supreme court of the United States has denied the petition for a rehearing in the Chicago traction case.

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL FOULY MURDERED

Was Commander of Port at St.
Petersburg.

DAGGER DRIVEN INTO HIS BACK

Unpopular Russian Official Who Refused to Give Workmen Holiday Is Stabbed to Death—Had Bad Reputation Among Laboring People.

St. Petersburg, May 15.—Vice Admiral Kuzmich, commander of the port, who was unpopular with the workmen, was assassinated here Monday by workmen whose May day demonstration he had attempted to stop.

The admiral was killed at the new admiralty works, a government institution, where most of the 2,000 men employed there reported for duty at 5 o'clock Monday morning.

They wanted immediately to march out in a body and celebrate the Russian May day, but finally agreed to work until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The admiral, however, made a speech to the men, saying that he could not agree to their leaving work at 2 o'clock, and the matter was left open.

At about 9:30 a. m., according to an officer who was at the gate of the works, the admiral was emerging from a small shop in the works when a workman who had been concealed around the corner of the building, leaped on Kuzmich from behind and drove a long dagger into his back.

The admiral fell forward on his face, which was badly cut by stones, and died immediately.

The assassin then fled into a large forge, where he was lost among the men employed there. The works were promptly surrounded by troops and police, but the search for the murderer was unavailing, his comrades professing ignorance of his identity.

The police say it is evident that the assassination of the admiral had been planned in advance. The dagger was found on the spot, and was concealed in a round stick, like a sword cane.

Among the workmen are a number of former sailors and revolutionists.

Kuzmich had a bad reputation among the workmen as being hard and despotic.

Woman Killed by an Assault.

New York, May 15.—A powerfully built man entered the home of August Hupfer, 76 years of age, choked him into insensibility and assaulted Mrs. Hupfer, 50 years of age, causing her death. The police arrested on suspicion James McPharland, a night watchman employed in the building on East Seventy-first street, where the Hupfers lived. The life of the aged husband is not feared. The police charged that nine years ago McPharland was convicted of a similar offense, which caused the death of an old beggar woman, and was sent to Sing Sing for several years.

May Have Killed Himself.

Chicago, May 15.—Professor Eric Muenter, the Harvard man wanted on a charge of wife-murder, belonged, it is said, to a German Metaphysical Society, which believed in soul transmigration and practiced weird rites in a community near this city. He was last seen near the headquarters of this cult, it is suspected that he may have committed suicide.

Long Term Given Burglar.

Columbus, O., May 15.—Because Edward Fields, an ex-convict, entered an inhabited dwelling last winter, although he secured only 10 cents and an old silver watch, he was sentenced by Judge Edmund B. Dillon to 22 years in the penitentiary. This is the record in Franklin county for long terms, considering the amount of swag secured.

Fifteen Persons Injured.

Chicago, May 15.—Fifteen men were injured, two of them fatally, by the bursting of a high boiler at the works of the Illinois Steel Co. at South Chicago Monday.

COUNTY PRIMARY PASSED OFF QUIETLY

Senator McCreary Re-Nominated by Handsome Majority.

THE VOTE WAS LIGHT

Not More Than 1,000 Votes Will be Polled in the County, Which Was a Great Deal Less Than in the Last Campaign.

The primary election in Alachua county passed off quietly, although there was considerable interest taken. During the day rain was general throughout the county, as was reported from the various precincts, and taking into consideration that the farmers were busy, a lighter poll than usual was polled.

Senator H. H. McCreary, who has been representing the people of this county for twelve years, and who was a candidate for re-election, it appears was unanimously returned, from the reports so far received. The Sun employed every effort to secure returns Tuesday night, and of the twenty-two precincts in the county, fourteen, excluding No. 7 (Gainesville) the following vote is shown:

The inspectors of the Gainesville precinct, No. 7, were engaged until nearly daylight this morning counting the ballots. There were about 325 cast, and the prospects indicates that for the Senate John B. Dell might lead by a very few, but nothing was definite, as the vote was not seen during the entire count, the candidates running a tight race.

The complete returns will be published as soon as they can be returned.

Olive Oil as a Medicine.

Olive oil has been proved in many cases to be not only a corrective of the liver, but a food for the system as well, and is a great benefit for weak stomach and bowels. The dose is usually a teaspoonful of the oil, to be taken a half hour before breakfast and a half hour after supper. The oil may be freely used on vegetables and in salads, as it is harmless. Its use may be continued for years, and in assisting the liver to do its work (it is in most cases mildly cathartic) the complexion is cleared of the ugly brown spots and leathery yellow appearance due to torpidity of the liver. The taste is not unpleasant, although a liking for it has in most cases to be acquired. But very few effective medicines are really fine flavored. Many physicians strongly recommend its use both internal and external. It is excellent to use after the bath, and many delicate persons, especially children, are greatly benefited by being massaged with it.

An English Superstition.

THE CITY ELECTION.

S. J. Thomas Elected Member of the Board of Bond Trustees.

There was "something doing" in the election line Tuesday, the city as well as the county holding elections.

The city election was for the purpose of selecting a member of the board of bond trustees. The ticket contained only one name, that of S. J. Thomas, who was as a matter of course elected unanimously. A good vote was polled, considering the interest manifested in the county election.

Mr. Thomas is a good man, full of enterprise, and the people of Gainesville have complete confidence in him.

KILLED A BIG GATOR.

F. T. Douglass Slayed a Big Saurian on His Farm Near Town.

F. T. Douglass, who owns and operates a farm near this city, had an experience with an alligator a few days ago which he will not soon forget.

Mr. Douglass is what may be termed a successful farmer. He rises early in the morning and busies himself about the farm until the setting of the sun, which accounts for his full crib and his ample amount of chickens, cows, etc.

But Mr. Douglass is not accustomed to the experience he had upon this occasion. Upon going to work in his field he encountered a ten-foot alligator, which dared to show fight.

Mr. Douglass soon dispatched his gatorship and will save his hide as a souvenir.

Rainstorms Excite Cubans.

Havana, May 15.—Tremendous rain storms that have been experienced here are the cause for unusual alarm. This alarm has been heightened because of the recent prediction by Professor No walk, the Vienna scientist, who, in a lecture before the Cuban Institute of the sciences, forecasted an earthquake or tidal wave on May 15 or thereabouts. The downpour washed out streets and pavements, and inundated one block, damaged the walls and the roof of the Jai Alai building and other smaller structures, prostrated electric wires and tied up some of the street car lines.

Pale? Thin?

How is it with the children these days? Have they plenty of grit, courage, strength? Or are they thin, pale, delicate? This reminds you of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It does great things for children. It gives them a good appetite, improves their digestion, builds up their general health. Ask your doctor if he endorses this.

SAVED THE LANDS.

How De Cosmos' Great Speech Happened to Be Delivered.

The longest speech on record is believed to have been that made by Mr. De Cosmos in the legislature of British Columbia when a measure was pending the passage of which would have taken from a great many settlers their lands. De Cosmos was in a minority. The measure had been held back till the eve of the close of the season or session. Unless action was taken before noon of a given day the act would fall. De Cosmos got the floor at 10 a. m. and began a speech against the bill. His friends supposed he would be done by 1 o'clock. At 2 o'clock he was saying, "In the second place." At 3 he produced a fearful bundle of evidence and insisted on reading it.

Then the truth dawned. He was going to speak till noon the next day and kill the bill. Then they made merry over it and tried to shout him down, but that gave him time and breathing space. They finally settled down to watch the combat between the strength of will and weakness of body. They gave no mercy, no time for dinner or wetting lips with water and no sitting down. Members went to dine and sleep in squads, but De Cosmos went on. Day dawned.

The speaker was alternately dozing and trying to look wide awake. At last noon came, and a single man was triumphant. Although his voice had sunk to a husky whisper, his eyes were bleared and bloodshot, his legs tottered under him, his baked lips were cracked and smeared with blood, De Cosmos had spoken for twenty-six hours and saved the lands.

Northumbrian and Scotch Rusties.

The Northumbrian peasant is not at all Scotch. On the contrary, the ancient animosities between England and Scotland were keenest on the borders and are still alive there. As soon as you cross the Tweed the difference becomes apparent. First there is the dialect. To a Londoner it is all Scotch, and there's an end of the matter. But there are several important points of difference. You find one exemplified in words such as home, stone, one, etc. The Scot says hame, stane, ane, but the Northumbrian h'y'm, st'y'n, yin—I fear only those who have heard it will be able to give that "y" its proper sound. And then the inimitable bur! One has to give up in despair all attempts to represent it phonetically, just as one cannot in letters represent the pronunciation of "me" and similar words. But it is all English of a sort and not Scotch. Still more striking is the difference in facial expression. The typical Scot is naturally reserved, not to say shy and self controlled, his face is something of a mask through which the true man peers at his neighbor. A southern peasant is polite, civil, respectful, cap touching, in awe of the squire and the quality. In Northumbria you will find the peasant franker than the Scot, of more independent bearing than is common south of the Ouse, his faults rudeness and brusqueness.—London Spectator.

THINGS ARE LIVELY IN OLD MICHANOPY

New Bank Has Been Organized
With Capital Stock $17,000.

A NEW MILITARY COMPANY

It Was Organized by Captain Robert Evans, and Gives Promise of Being One of the Best Organizations of the Kind in the State.

Micanopy, May 12, (Delayed)—Rev. E. A. Gray left yesterday for Atlanta. He was called to be with Mrs. Gray, who has been in a hospital there for several weeks. Their many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Rev. C. M. Gordon of McIntosh will preach at the Methodist church here Sunday.

L. B. Robeson of Marietta, Ga., is visiting his brother, Prof. O. L. Robeson, of this place for a few days.

The following were nominated as town officers at a citizen's meeting: Mayor, J. W. Smith; Clerk, S. H. McCollum; Marshal, O. H. Crisman; Aldermen for two years, O. L. Feaster, Waterman Johnson, Dr. H. L. Montgomery; Aldermen for one year (to fill unexpired term of J. W. Smith, nominated for mayor) Thomas McCredie. These are good citizens, and have had experience in serving the city before these positions. The town tax is only six mills.

Several of the candidates were here Thursday, but owing to the very busy time of the year and scarcity of hands, and the gathering of vegetables and other farm products, the farmers were unable to attend the meeting. We hope the candidates did not feel we did not want to hear them, it was a case of the ox in the ditch with most of the voters. July or August would be better to have a campaign anyway. But our State Executive Committee fixed the time, and we must act accordingly. We hope the best men will win out on the 15th.

A bank was organized here recently with the following directors: L. O. Benton, Motticello, Ga.; C. E. Melton, H. L. Montgomery, A. H. Emerson, E. C. Chitty, O. L. Feaster, J. B. Simonson, J. J. Barre and J. D. Watkins of this place. The capital stock will be $17,000. The bank will be ready for business about the first of July. We are glad to have a bank in our town. We believe it will be a paying investment, and it will certainly be a great convenience to our people.

Will Mathews of Flemington was in town this week.

Mrs. Walter T. Porter and son of Jacksonville are visiting relatives here for a few days.

Miss Essie Smith has returned home, after an extended stay in Miami. Her many friends were glad to have her back again.

School will close here on the 18th.

Mrs. J. P. Heister is visiting her sister at Wildwood for a few days.

Price 50 cents and $1.00 at all leading drug stores, or by mail. Prepared by National Toilet Co., Paris, Tenn.

Sold in Gainesville by J. S. Bedford & Company, W. M. Johnson, and J. W. McCollum & Company.

The farmers are very busy shipping potatoes and beans. Prices are good. Several trades in real estate have been made recently. Lands around this place are good and the prices are very reasonable.

W. L. Hill of Gainesville was talking insurance to our people this week.

Captain Bob Evans has organized a military company at this place. He is an efficient officer, and the boys will doubtless be up in all military tactics under his instruction. We wish them all possible success.

HAWTHORN HIGH SCHOOL

Closed Friday With Appropriate Exercises After Successful Term.

Hawthorn, May 14.—The commencement exercises of the high school took place in the school auditorium Friday night and was the most successful in history of the school.

At 8 o'clock an invocation was rendered by Rev. L. D. Hynes, after which a welcome address was delivered by Hon. J. L. Kelley. He spoke for thirty minutes on educational topics and was heartily applauded when he referred to the magnificent system of education of Alachua county. He dwelt on the importance of the regular attendance of the pupils of this county and convinced his hearers that the present board of public instruction is using every means at its command in the interest of the child.

The exercises were a success in every way, the pupils speaking in such clear tones as to be heard throughout the audience. Special mention should be made of the play entitled, "Aunt Susan Jones." Miss Mamie Davis, representing Aunt Susan Jones, acted with such perfection as to render the play a complete success. The other players (Miss Ethel Waite, Miss Jimma Waite, Miss Lotta Littledale and Mr. Glenn Moore) acted their parts equally as well.

There were three graduates—Miss Hammon, Miss Ethel Waite and Miss Ella Stringfellow, they having completed the course required in a junior high school.

Professor W. E. Bell, who is principal, and his estimable wife, who is in charge of the primary department, are to be congratulated on the efficiency of the school, which ranks as one of the foremost in the county. Professor Bell moves to Gainesville and will reside in the Chapman residence on N University street.

Linnetts in Africa.

Dr. Arthur J. Hayes in his "The Source of the Blue Nile" tells how the linnetts come to drink out of the Athara river: "They come with an undulating rush, and, small as they are, the rushing of the wind as they beat the air makes a noise like thunder, and their numbers darken the sky. The weight of the throngs of them which alight at a time bends down the ends of the overhanging branches and twigs to the level of the water."

Pirating Foley's Money and Tar.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Silenced Him.

A Kansas City woman tells this story on her husband to demonstrate the inferiority of the masculine mind. One morning as her husband was sitting down to the breakfast table he glanced at the dining room clock and said, "We must be later than usual this morning." "Don't place too much confidence in that clock. It stopped at 5 o'clock this morning, and I just set it going by guess," replied the good wife.

"Were you up at 5 o'clock?" asked the husband.

"Of course not."

"What time did you say the clock stopped?"

"At 5."

"If you weren't up at 5," replied the man, with a puzzled look, "how in thunder do you know when the clock stopped?"

"Why, dear, it stayed stopped," was the reply. The man did not say another word that morning—Kansas City Times.

Dangers of Cocaine.

Cocaine, an alkaloid of coca leaves, was discovered in 1859, but remained in comparative obscurity until 1884. In minute doses, whether taken internally or used as a spray on mucous surfaces, its effect is wonderfully exhilarating, producing for a time the fresh and buoyant sensations of youth and perfect health, that have apparently no unpleasant reaction, and therein lies the explanation of the subtle and irresistible power it quickly acquires over its victims, carrying them to the very brink of destruction before they have dreamed of danger. Being a cumulative poison, the first warning symptom does not appear until the fatal chains are riveted that shall drag them, horror-stricken and powerless of resistance, over the precipice to complete mental, moral and physical ruin.

Foreign Flags in America.

The first flag to float over American soil was the royal standard of Isabella, emblazoned with the arms of Castile and Leon. A white flag with a green cross was its companion. Some years after Columbus landed at San Salvador the Cabots planted the banner of England and of St. Mark of Venice on the eastern shore of North America. In the centuries that have intervened since a variety of national flags have waved where now only the stars and stripes is the accepted emblem. Over Texas have floated the French, Spanish, English, American and Confederate; in Louisiana the lilies of France, the Spanish flag, the tricolor, the American and Confederate flags; in California the Spanish, Mexican, Russian and American.

The Coconut.

The coconut tree is the most useful of all plants in the tropical region. Its seed furnishes food and an intoxicating drink. The shell gives drinking cups and vessels and a hard material capable of a high polish, from which personal ornaments may be manufactured. The trunk furnishes wood for dwellings and boats. The leaves make clothing, cordage and ropes. The fibers of the bark and of the nut afford matting and carpets. The buds furnish a succulent vegetable, and from the trunk a palatable liquor is drawn by making an incision.

As Good as Married.

First Sailor—No, Bill, yer don't really know what life is till yer get spliced. Second Sailor—W'y, shiver me timbers, measmate! I've never been married, true, but I've had yeller fever and cholera, I've been frostbit, drowned, burned alive, eat by a shark, blowed up at sea and operated on for cancer. Wot more does a reasonable chap want?—London Answers.

Express Clerk—Value of this package, please? Fair Damsel—$25,000. Express Clerk—Hub? Fair Damsel—You heard what I said. Those are love letters from old Bazookoyme, and I'm sending 'em to my lawyer.—Cleveland Leader.

Translating the Definition.

Johnny—Papa, what does precocious mean? Papa—It means—a—it is a term applied to children who know more than is usual at their age. Johnny—Oh, yes; it means a fresh kid.

Awfully Slow.

Do You Love

Your baby? You wonder why he cries. Buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he will never cry. Most babies have worms, and the mothers don't know it. White's Cream Vermifuge rids the child of worms and cleans out its system in a pleasant way. Every mother should keep a bottle of this medicine in the house. With it, fear need never enter her mind. Price 25c. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. S. Frake

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, chronic kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Lydia E. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing-down pains, scalding or burning sensations or deposits in the urine, unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back, running through the groin, she may infer that her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ills.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is.

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia

E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I first wrote to you I had suffered for years with what the doctor called kidney trouble and congestion of the female organs. My back ached dreadfully all the time, and I suffered so with that bearing-down feeling I could hardly walk across the room. I did not get any better, so decided to stop doctoring with my physician and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am thankful to say it has entirely cured me. I do all my own work, have no more backache and all the bad symptoms have disappeared.

I cannot praise your medicine enough, and would advise all women suffering with kidney trouble to try it.

Mrs. J. W. Lang, of 626 Third Avenue, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I have been a great sufferer with kidney trouble. My back ached all the time and I was discouraged. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure kidney disease, and I began to take it; and it has cured me when everything else had failed. I have recommended it to lots of people and they all praise it very highly.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Investiture.

Women suffering from kidney trouble, or any form of female weakness, are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. Out of the great volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than likely she has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

ROUGH RIDERS TO THE FRONT.

The Lampoonist of the New York World has evidently watched the careers of four two illustrious citizens, private Ben Daniels of Arizona, and Col. Roosevelt of New York, and declares:

"For our part we sincerely rejoice over the vindication of Ben Daniels. We look for great things from him as United States Marshal of Arizona. Certain muck-rakers in the United States Senate published broadcast the fact that Ben had served time in the Wyoming penitentiary for stealing a Government mule. They hinted that he had 'killed his man' too. But they refused to look at the spiritual side of Ben, as President Roosevelt says all muck-rakers must do to be saved. They failed to consider that, no matter how many men Ben had killed, he had had a piece of one ear shot off. Ben frankly admitted that he stole the Government's mule. Who knows but that he had a kind of personal feeling that the Government's income was 'swollen beyond all healthy limits' and, acting on his convictions, shifted his own saddle to the mule's back? Ben never denied even that he had served in Cuba with Col. Roosevelt in 'my regiment.' It shall never be said of him, at any rate, that 'the liar is no whit better than the thief.' He frankly accepted the consequences of having been a Rough Rider and took an appointment to boot. The muck-rakers of the Senate, by their indiscriminate assaults upon Ben Daniels, invited a reaction in favor of the man who had been attacked, exposed and put in the penitentiary. The confirmation of his nomination should be a lesson to all other muck-rakers."

TERRORIZING THE COURTS.

There was quite a little sensation created in the Senate the other day in the course of Senator Spooner's speech on the rate bill. Mr. Spooner referred to a case in which the court had rebuked the Attorney-General for criticizing a judicial decision, whereupon Mr. Bailey asked whether Judge Humphrey had gone back on the bench by failing to rebuke the President for criticizing his decision in the packers' case; and Mr. Spooner replied: "I stand with all my heart and soul for the distribution of powers between the three independent coordinate branches of the Government, and regard it as fundamental that none of these should be invaded by the others. It will be a sorry day for the United States when the courts become terrorized by either Congress or the Executive. The place to correct the errors of the inferior courts is in the great tribunal created for that purpose." Terrorizing the courts by the Executive is precisely what the Administration relies upon as the means of accomplishing its objects. Roosevelt would regard any other means as lacking in strenuousness.

THE BANANA PLANT.

Each Tree Produces Only One Bunch of the Fruit.

The banana plant is not properly a tree at all. It has no woody fiber. It is a large, green, fleshy plant, with big leaves six or eight feet long and sometimes two feet broad. It grows to a height of ten to fourteen feet or even more, according to the variety of plant and the soil and climate. Each tree produces one bunch of fruit only, which is really the terminal bud of the plant, just like an ear of wheat or barley. It has no branches, and when the fruit is ready, which is twelve or fifteen months from the date of planting, the tree is cut down and done with.

But while it is growing up and maturing its fruit it is at the same time sending up from its roots other young plants or suckers—perhaps eight or nine of them. Each of these will produce its own bunch in turn, some of them in a couple of months after the parent plant, and there will thus be a regular succession of fruit. Many of these suckers have to be dug up and planted elsewhere, or they would be too thick on the ground.

And there is this peculiarity about the banana: You can plant it at any season, and the fruit ripens all the year round. When once a banana field has been planted out, all that is necessary to be done is to keep it clear of weeds and keep thinning out the multiplying suckers.

A Curious Wooden Watch.

The most curious timekeeper perhaps that has ever been made in this country was the work of one Victor Doriot, who lived at Bristol, Tenn., in the last century. This horological oddity was nothing more or less than a wooden watch. The case was made of brier root, and the inside works—all except three of the main wheels and the springs, which were of metal—were made from a piece of an old boxwood rule. The face, which was polished until it looked like a slab of finest ivory, was made from the shoulder blade of an old cow that had been killed by the cars. "Doriot's queer watch," as it was called, was an open faced affair, with a glass crystal, and was pronounced an elegant piece of workmanship by all the watchmakers in east Tennessee.

DEATH DECREE FOR FANATICS.

Black Flag has Been Raised Against the Outlaw Pulajanes.

Manila, May 15.—Superintendent of Schools, Hoover, of Samar, and several native officials of that island, have arrived here on their way to Bagula, province of Benguet, the summer capital, to visit Governor General Le. Mr. Hoover says that 95 per cent of the natives of Samar are anxious for the extermination of the fanatics and the establishment of a peace.

The native officials, he says, are organizing bands of volunteers, who are scouring the mountains, guarding the trails and capturing or killing outlaws. It is estimated that three hundred Pulajanes are in the mountains.

Governor Curry, of Samar, has proposed to turn over the Pulajanes district to the federal authorities for the establishment of martial law and the extermination of the fanatics and General Wood agreeing, to plate two regiments, assisted by naval gunboats in the island and the adjacent waters in order to guard against the outlaws. Governor General Ide has reported no decision in the matter.

The Pulajane leader is 64 years of age, and has been in the mountains for 40 years.

There were two women with Woodall a few minutes before the shooting, and it is believed they know something of the affair. The police are working on the case.

is more than a fat food. There is no animal fat that compares with it in nourishing and building up the wasted, emaciated body. That is why children and anæmic girls thrive and grow fat upon it. That is why persons with consumptive tendencies gain flesh and strength enough to check the progress of the disease.

Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." ## HUNGRY MILAN.

The City Always Noted For Gorgeous and Heavy Banquets.

"From early times Milan has enjoyed a reputation for the gorgeousness and heaviness of its banquets," writes Rapinet Mackenzie. "Goldoni attributed to the Milanese an inordinate love of the good things of the table in the following words, which have been handed down to us: 'They (the Milanese) can neither take a walk, a drive or amuse themselves in any way without conversing on the all engrossing theme of eating. At the play, in the heart of their families, even at the spiritual conference, they cannot resist indulging in their favorite topic.' Even in modern times Milan retains her old reputation. At Christmas time one can see that she eats well. A walk through her streets will reveal shops laden with all good things necessary for the festive season. The beef is prime—none better in all Italy—the turkeys and chickens fattened to a nicety and the vegetables like one vast garden. Perhaps there is a touch of the barbaric in this display. It is true that in that thriving city of northern Italy they work well and long, giving the lie to those who prate of Latin laziness, but it is truer still that they eat much. A glance back at earlier days reveals the fact that Baretta, in the sixteenth century, draws a comparison between the English and the Lombards, likening them to wolves, not on account of their roughness of manner, for they were ever cordial and hospitable, but because of their rapacity in eating and the number and length of their repasts. In fact, a family now could live for three days on the ample supply which was then deemed necessary for one person. Until Milan felt the influence of France the Milanese cooking was of a primeval nature. Their banquets were prodigious in length and quality, but lacking in delicacy.

"With the passing of time the fame of these good people increased. The markets of Milan became world famous. The Verziere was a market for produce of all kinds. There were to be found meat and vegetables in and out of season. Its fame spread throughout the plains of Lombardy, and all neighboring cities knew of its glory. There was at this time in Milan a certain nobleman named Cane della Scala—a man presumably of a joking turn of mind—who was the guest of John Galeazzo Visconti. Early one morning he ordered his servants to buy up the choicest of everything in the market, hoping thereby to make his host cut a bad figure. Galeazzo Visconti, hearing of his guest's practical joke, sent word to the head of the Verziere market recommending him to look well to its reputation.

"The latter obeyed orders well. Three times the servants of the Veronese nobleman stripped the market place of its choicest stock, when, lo, it was replenished after every assault. What was more wonderful still, that same day a banquet more lavish than usual was given by Visconti in honor of his guest, much to the amazement of the latter. The host, with a great laugh, begged him to partake of what was left after his triple sacking of the market."—Chicago News.

Bitumen.

The oldest known form of natural hydrocarbon was the bitumen which rose to the surface of the Dead sea, called from that circumstance the Asphaltum lake. Tradition says that it used to appear on the surface in considerable masses and was collected by the Arabs and exported to Egypt, where it was used in embalming and for a few purposes in the arts. The ancients were also acquainted with the liquid form of bitumen—petroleum. Herodotus speaks of the mineral oil of Zante, and other Greek authors mention the springs of Agrium, the product of which was burned in lamps and was known as Sicilian oil. The fire worshippers of Persia erected temples over the burning springs. Of the use of these substances in the middle ages and later we chiefly know that the petroleum springs of Pechelbroun, in the sixteenth century, spontaneously furnished mineral oil in such quantities that the peasants around used it to feed their lamps and grease their carriage wheels. The virtues of the mineral springs of the Jura mountains were made known in 1712 by a Greek doctor, who pronounced them a treasure that had been unknown from the beginning of the world. Since then new sources have been discovered in all parts of the world.

The English of India.

Applying for a post in the police of the central provinces of India, a native wrote: "I have a good long equine nose, piercing eyelashes on a semicircular face and a good physique. My family has a history that takes my imagination back to three pedigrees, when my grandfather was a millionaire. With the vicissitude and times matter change and my father was driven to the necessity to accept a schoolmaster ship. Ultimately he enjoyed his well earned pension by the time he gave up his ghost. In case my aspirations turn out a reality I shall as a matter of course be bound to pray God for your long life and prosperity."

PIGS AS DRAFT ANIMALS.

A Sow That Could Retrieve Birds. Four-in-hand of Pigs.

In many countries, even in Scotland, the pig has served the purpose of a beast of draft and has actually been harnessed to the plow in company with cows and horses. In Scotland also early in the last century pigs were sometimes made to serve as chargers and proved most docile mounts.

The homing instinct is strongly developed in the pig. Instances not infrequently occur of pigs finding their way back to farms whence they have been conveyed. There is a record of two pigs homing nine miles and crossing the Thames to boot to their old farm, whence they had been driven to Reading market and bought by a local gentleman on the previous day. At one point on their homeward journey where two roads met the twain were observed "putting their noses together as if in deep consultation."

About 1815 a London gentleman created a sensation by driving a four-in-hand of pigs through the streets, and thirty years later an old farmer caused amusement to a great crowd in the market place at St. Albans by entering it in a chaise drawn by four trotting hogs. After two or three turns round the market he drove to the Woolpack yard, where his curious steeds were unharnessed and led away to be regaled with a trough of beans and wash.

There have also been sporting pigs. An old account of a black sow which Richard Tooner, one of the royal keepers in the New forest, broke to find game and to bask and stand says: "Within a fortnight she would find and point partridges or rabbits, and her training was much forwarded by the abundance of both. She daily improved and in a few weeks would retrieve birds that had run as well as the best pointer—nay, her nose was superior to the best pointer."

According to Linnaeus, "the hog is more nice in the selection of his vegetable diet than any of our other domesticated herbivorous animals." Thus in one respect the pig may be said to be an epicure. Linnaeus states that the animal will eat only seventy-two plants, as against the goat's 449, the sheep's 387, the cow's 276 and the horse's 262.

Ways of the Moors.

Of the elevating influence of women in the American sense Morocco knows nothing, according to Budget Meakin, author of "Life in Morocco." There they are, in effect, so many goods and chattels. That a woman should be fat and comely is the highest thought a Moor has on the position of women. If a girl is to be married and is thought to be too thin, she is put through a course of "stuffing," just as if she were a turkey meant for the Christmas market. "This consists of swallowing after each full meal a few small sausage shaped boluses of flour, honey and butter, flavored with aniseed or something similar. A few months of this treatment give a marvelous roundness to the figure, thus greatly increasing her charms to the native eye."

As a people the Moors are already well inclined to anything that gives life. The same writer says: "Nothing delights them more, as a means of agreeably spending an hour or two, than squatting on their heels in the streets or on some door stoop gazing at the passersby, exchanging compliments with their acquaintances. Native swells consequently promenade with a piece of felt under their arms, on which to sit when they wish, in addition to its doing duty as a carpet for prayer. The most public places and usually the cool of the afternoon are preferred for this pastime."

Freight Trains Collide.

Sunday morning a freight train coming in on the Atlantic and Birmingham railroad, ran into another freight that was standing in the yards, with the result that eight cars were completely demolished. Fouts, postmaster at River-ton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters, which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." He would not say, however, that such a statement is to be made.

"I lost flesh and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally, I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me, and I am now sound and well." During the summer kidney irregularities are often caused by excessive drinking or being overheated. Attend to the kidneys at once by using Foley's Kidney Cure. J. W. McCollum & Co.

NUTS HARD TO CRACK

QUESTIONS WHICH EXCITE THE INQUISITIVE MIND.

Awkward Queries Which the Posers of the Past Propounded—Emperor Tiberius an Early Example—Fussing Dreams of a Chinaman.

Bacon doubtless had in his mind the compounder of unanswerable questions when, in his essay on "Discourse," he revised all seekers after knowledge to avoid putting troublesome queries, a practice which he declared was fit only for a poser. The poser, however, has not time out of mind. He is to be found among all classes of men, from the poor down to private individuals who prepare scientific conundrums, somewhat early example of the pure and simple was the Emperor Tiberius. The unfortunate philosophers whom he used to keep for a time in his island retreat at Caprae, continually being plagued by absurd questions. Suetonius tells us that the emperor used to demand of these men whom Hecuba's mother was, they refused to commit themselves, a family tree of the Hecubas not having come down to posterity, the emperor was wont to wax wroth at their ignorance and threaten them with corporal punishment if on the following day they did not come prepared with an answer. Other favorite questions of his were: "What name did Achilles pass under when he sojourned with the virgins at Scyros?" "What particular song were the sirens, when seated on the rocks, in the habit of chanting in order to allure travelers to their death?" In vain was it for these wise men to invent fictitious answers, for the emperor invariably asked for authorities, and if chapter and verse were not forthcoming some ingenious punishment fell to the lot of those unfortunate manufacturers of history.

Perhaps it was because time hung heavily on their hands that the holy men of the church during the middle ages pestered their spiritual superiors with foolish questions drawn from the Bible. A bishop in those days had to know, or, rather, appear to know, even more than Macaulay's omniscient schoolboy. No small portion of his time, it would seem, was spent in endeavoring to find answers to such questions as the following: "What was the use of the ladder which Jacob saw in his vision, seeing that the angels had wings and so did not require any other means of descent from heaven to earth?" "What kind of implements did Adam and Eve use when they sewed the fig leaves together and made themselves aprons?"

The regal as well as the clerical mind delighted in propounding abstruse questions. Was, for instance, a man who came as a stranger to a city and being in extreme want of food justified in stealing in order to save his life? Puffendorf and a whole host of foreign jurists declare in the affirmative. Cicero, Hale, Blackstone and others take the opposite side. The great Bacon himself suggests a nice point. If two persons are shipwrecked and get on the same plank, but find it not able to save them both, is either justified if, in order to save his life, he trusts the other from it?

Scientific men, too, have raised some curious questions for posterity to argue over. Many of these, however, are similar to that which Charles II. propounded to the Royal society—viz, "If a fish is put into a globe full of the rim with water, why is it that the water does not overflow?" The society, being loyal subjects, took a decent time to look into this profound question and then informed his majesty, in the politest terms which they could muster, that under the given circumstances the water would overflow. There is that ancient question, "What would happen if an irresistible force came into contact with an immovable body?"

Equally fruitless is the speculation as to which came first, the hen or the egg. In spite of the old Greek saying, "The beginning of all life is an egg," we usually imagine hen's eggs at least to have been laid by a hen. "Does a water wheel run faster at night than in the day?" The savants even of Germany have studied this nice point and now there is no satisfactory answer. Again, "Does a man weigh more at the equator than at the north pole?" and "How do birds soar without moving their wings?" are both questions which seem to imber the lives of many apparently sane people.

There is a story to the effect that a certain gentleman, being commissioned to write an article on Chinese metaphysics, looked up the words "Chinese" and "metaphysics" in the Encyclopedia Britannica and combined the information. Considering the questions which the metaphysicians of China are in the habit of propounding, we think the gentleman did wisely in sparing his readers an introduction to the abstractions of the Celestial intellect. As an example of what they thus escaped we append the following: A certain Chinaman fell asleep and dreamed he was a butterfly. During the dream, while in the form of a butterfly, he dreamed he was a Chinaman. On waking a terrible feeling came over him. Was he now a butterfly dreaming he was a Chinaman or had he last night been a Chinaman dreaming that he was a butterfly? The question weighed upon this Chinese man's mind. He sought out the greatest thinkers of China, who pondered over this question, but could make nothing of it. It is said that the joy and beauty have gone out of that Chinaman's life. Fortune may smile upon him, he may be decorated with peacock feathers and yellow jackets, yet content will not be his, for he can never be certain in his own mind whether he be a Chinaman or a butterfly.—London Standard.

Japan's Pancake Women.

One of the familiar sights on the streets of a Japanese town is the pancake woman, who, with her little brazier of coals and her tiny frying pan, is usually found on a corner not far from a school. She has a bowl full of delicious batter, a ladle and a cake turner, and there is apt to be a hungry crowd around her little stand as soon as school is out, for not many of the children are able to resist the smell of the crisp pancakes, at least if they have any money. For a small coin worth only a fraction of one of our pennies a child may fry and turn his own cakes, and happy is the one who has a number of coins in his little kimono sleeve and can fry and eat to his heart's content.

Official Correspondence.

A fourth class postmaster—and he doesn't live in Billville—sent the following to headquarters in Washington:

"This will make three times that I've told you I'm laid up with a bad leg, havin' shot myself in the left leg—the one that was wounded in the war—while I wuz tryin' to kill a squirrel for my breakfast, and I will not be besides, I don't git much holiday now!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Scotland Yard.

Scotland Yard, widely known as the headquarters of the London police, is a historical place, said to have been the site of a palace where kings of Scotland were received when they came to London. It is near the banqueting hall, Whitehall. The Scotch kings retained possession of it from 950 till the rebellion of William of Scotland. Milton, Sir Christopher Wren and other notables lived in Scotland Yard.

The Victoria Cross.

The intrinsic value of the Victoria cross, the most highly prized decoration in army and navy, is about 1½ pence. It was instituted by royal warrant on Jan. 29, 1856, as a reward of gallantry of all ranks, and the first presentation (of sixty-two crosses) was made by the late Queen Victoria in person on Friday, June 20, 1857. It is in the shape of a Maltese cross and is made to this day out of metal from old Russian cannon captured at Sevastopol.—St. James' Gazette.

Snow at a Halfpenny a Pound.

Snow is sold in the north of Sicily, where it fetches about a halfpenny a pound. It is a government monopoly, and the prince of Palermo derives the greater part of his income from it. The snow, which is gathered on the mountains in felt covered baskets, is widely bought in the cities for refrigerating purposes.—London Tit-Bits.

In a Bad Way.

"I fear that my husband will break down! He is suffering from brain exhaustion!"

"How dreadful! What are his symptoms?"

"He latterly keeps repeating himself in his excuses for coming home late from the club, dear?"

Why He Laughed.

Jenks—Why on earth did you laugh so heartily at that ancient jest of Boreen's? Wise—in self defense. Jenks—In self defense? Wise—Yes; if I hadn't laughed so, he would have repeated the thing, thinking I hadn't seen the point.—Kansas City Independent.

A Change.

Of the twenty-six barons who signed the Magna Charta three wrote their names and twenty-three made their mark. This is all changed now. Every baron can write, but only a few succeed in making their mark.

A Short Sermon.

No time or place is sacred to the enthusiastic joker. Dureau tells in his memoirs how the prince archbishop of Cologne asked license to preach in the royal chapel at Versailles when visiting Louis XIV. himself. All the court assembled. It was April 1. The prince archbishop mounted the pulpit in state, fashion, turned from side to side and stood a moment as if collecting his thoughts, then shouted "April fools!" picked up his skirts and ran.

Cruel.

"I made these biscuits myself, David," said Mrs. Copperfield, with honest pride.

"They look very nice, I dare," replied David, picking one of them up and making an effort to split it. "And they are still hot. How long ago did you—ah!—eat them?"
